Dear friends and family,

It is with a heavy heart that I write this.

I lost a part of me yesterday, June 17, 2016. I couldn't believe it happened. It was like a bad dream and I couldn't wake up. It still hasn't quite sunk in yet that you are gone. You were my life for the past 20 years. I just want one more hug. One more "I love you." I keep looking at the door, thinking that you'll be home soon. That you are just running late.

You were a wonderful man and took care of me. You made sure I had all the love I needed and more. You kept me safe and I always felt safe with you. I knew from the first time I saw you that I love you. I loved seeing you smile especially when you did something you were proud of. We traveled the world together. You not only taught me to drive an 18 wheeler, (sorry for the premature grey hair) but you taught me to believe in myself and that anything is possible if I just try. You knew what to do to make me laugh. You knew me like no one else ever did or will. You never missed my birthday. I saved every card you have ever given me. I didn't think I would get a birthday card this year because you left me so soon, but last night, as I wondered from room to room, I came across my birthday card. Thank you, baby. It means the world to me to know how much you love me.

I may have lost you, my dearest friend, but I will keep your memory alive and you will always be in my heart. I am not only glad to be your wife, I am proud to be your wife.

Tammy
