“ Grew up in Lubbock but didn't meet Casey till 2003. Enjoyed swapping rattlesnake roundup stories with Casey. I especially enjoyed teasing him about Prairie Dogs. When we were growing up there, they were pesky varmints and are now sanctified and sacred critters. Very perplexing to both of us. In spite of our rather brief acquaintance, Casey was a good and loyal friend.

“ Mona, Dawn, Bruce, and Blaine,
Our deepest sympathies during this time of your loss and sorrow. Casey was a good man and we are all extremely fortunate to have known him. He had a good life and was part of an extraordinary family. Our last words shared on the phone revealed his consistent attitude of courage and determination as he faced his last challenge in life. I'm confident he enjoyed the peace of knowing his family was by his side during his last days. Our memories of him will never fade and he will live on in our hearts. Raun, Neal, and Eric Watson
