“ Clayton was rock solid as a partner when I first got off training with the Dallas Police Department at Northwest and always referred to me as "Rookie" even when, years later, I moved up the ranks. Somehow, being a "rookie" in Clayton's eyes was always a honor to me. Mike Addison and I carpooled with Clayton from Duncanville to NW in his Volkswagen for a long time. Both should have voted me out of the carpool because I was perpetually late getting off with a call or an arrest, but they never did. Gloria, I'm sorry for all those late arrivals and wish I could apologize now to Clayton. Miss you, old friend. Save a seat in the back of your next Volkswagen for me when we get together again.

“ He was a mentor to me. He shared more truth about life with me than anyone I know.

Memories of Clayton there are so many I wouldn't know where to even start.

The one that sticks out the most in my mind. Is me and him sitting in a swing. I was so busy all the time and he told me slow down. Take the time to listen to God. Me and Clayton shared so many memories with each other. If you read this Gloria this is Sam and I'm sorry for everything especially not keeping up with you both. I love you
