“ I miss him more everyday he was such a kind man my favorite memory would be our late night conversations and his laugh he never complained even all he went through he stood on his own two feet

“ I only knew him for about 2 years but I loved the time I got to get to know him. He was the only reason I would drive in Houston because I hated the traffic. I miss the conversations we'd have. And he always played the coolest games. He ignited my love for Jurassic world alive. We miss him so much
