“ Brad has been my best & closest friend for as long as I can remember. He was so goal driven, & loved his family. He helped me through some personal & religious issues, & was a fantastic man. Sleepovers, movies, camping, scouts... he was happy to do it all, & include everyone, no one was left behind or felt forgotten if Brad could help it. I love you, buddy. Thank you for making my life better.

I want the Conaways & Emily know that my wife & I are keeping y'all in our prayers, & that you're not forgotten. I love y'all, and I hope all the family affected will be able to heal somehow soon.

“ We met Brad in the Lake Houston single's branch. When Jaime and I were getting married we were very much worried about affording some of the wedding basics. One day he asked to speak with us. He told us that he wanted to help. He is the one that helped purchase our wedding bands. His generosity was beyond words. His gift for giving Priesthood blessings was remarkable, and in those holy prayers were words that brought comfort and relief. We will miss our dear friend, but we find comfort that he is with our God and Savior feeling no more pain and receiving their love.

“ I met Brad in our church group almost ten years ago. His excitement and energy were infectious. He was the first to set things up and the first to clean up afterwards. I remember him serving in the temple. He worked so hard to do the right thing. He was a great young man.

“ Brad and I shared a lot of time together and during those times we were able to teach each other a lot about our selves and life. We had many fun outing from the zoo, astro game, Chili's, Sonic, and just hanging out. Those times of my life will forever be apart of me. Sad to see a good person leave this Earth so young. May the Astros win to night in your honor

“ I have been one of Brad's supervisors since he came to work for the Brown County Sheriff's Office. He was a quiet man most of the time until he talked about the Houston Astros. Being a Ranger fan he gave me a hard time. I will miss his infectious smile and good nature. I pray for the family. Trust in God and lean not on your own understanding.

“ I never knew Brad personally but my wife Brandy mentioned his passing and my heart broke. I'm sure he was an awesome person to be around and although we never met we both served the gospel to the elect as missionaries for The church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saint! I pray that he may Rest In Peace!

“ Brad introduced me to The Office, installed the flooring in my bedroom and renewed my interest in betta fish. I considered him a real friend even though his moving far far away limited our interactions. I never met his beautiful bride and new son, but I was very happy to see their little family in her Facebook posts. Despite his struggles, I know they brought him joy. My love to all of his family.

“ I'll never forget the look on Brad's face when I told him that I would be charging him an extra $20 to clean his room because the cowboy rug was offensive. He took me seriously for about 5 sec as he lost a lil color. It was our on going joke. He still owes me a bill. 🤪 This ones on the house. ❤️ My deepest and most sincere condolences in this time.
