“ Just a month or so before Joe was taken by our LORD, I spoke to Joe. He was busy moving back to Texas. He and Peggy lived in Lusk, Wy. only a couple hours from my home in Custer SD, Just last summer we spent two great days together with out wives and dogs camping at Angorastora Lake South of Hot Springs SD.

It is still impossible for me to believe Joe has gone on ahead of us.

He was bull headed and steadfast in his beliefs. But you could always count on him the clutch. I am so grateful he met Peggy, and he changed a great deal during his marriage. He really grew as a person and as a Christian. The Bible says, "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away. The Lord joined Joe and Peggy for HIS own reasons and when he had Joe prepared, he took him home.

Joe was a great and true friend. We shared many adventures at work and at play. I will miss him and share in Peggy's grief and I will share in her joy of knowing we will all be with him again in the very near future.

“ I first met Joe in 1980 at work. During that time we spent many hours together at work. Then we started to spend time together work, hunting, golfing road trips and more. When Joe and I were together sometimes we would debate the many issues in the world. At times I thought he would not talk with me again. But I was wrong he and I would meet and he never seemed to make issues of the talks we shared. If asked to describe Joe this is what I would say, a hard worker, a great friend, a great man and the person I wanted to be with when times were tough.

The last few years we talked only once in a while. But my opinion of Joe will never change. I took for granted that I still would talk to him again in the future

Joe: when we debated issues you were always right but made the talk so much fun. I will miss you and think of you often

“ I first met Joe when we worked the same 12 hour shift together. We instantly connected and found a lot to talk about. In fact Joe commented that we wouldn't be able to work together again since we forgot to do all kinds of things because we were so busy talking / visiting ! Joe always made work seem easy and relaxed without stress. Peggy, Joe was a special guy ! I really miss him and I pray for you and your family. God bless y'all !!
