“ We have all lost a person held near and dear to our hearts. Robert meant so much to so many and will be remembered that way by us all. Robert told me when we became partners in business he considered it similar to a marriage. He said he won with the first and intended to win with the second. He did. I always said Robert had more street savvy and common sense than anyone else I ever knew. He knew when it was time to go Home. Our condolences to the family and those who knew Robert.
