“ When i first met bob i had just moved into arkansas with my two boys..bob had introduced himself n asked me if i join him for a cup of coffee..from that point on we had coffee every morning on his porch.id listen to all his stories of his bar and the adventures in the military..i enjoyed every minute of it..when i got ill bob took me to the hospital n stayed by myside.when i needed someone to help with my boys he was there for advice n to watch over them till i got home from work..the friendship we had was something ill always cherish..we took care of each other n would always keep one another encouraged n strong..we laughed together,and cried together.bob ill never forget you,for you hold a place in my heart .
