“ Sandra Jean was not only my niece but friend, I was her aunt at age two! She was a warrior for the Lord, her life was hard at times, but she stays strong. Told me few months ago was ready to go to God. I'm sure Jesus was waiting along with so many loved ones Paul, Dad, Mom and Danny her brother. We will all miss her but so thankful she is healthy heavenly resident now. Rest in peace sweet little niece/friend.

I love you. Mina Ray Evans Faulkner

“ Those of you who know Sandra are aware of her many health problems in the last few years. Sandra's every day existence was complicated dramatically by a fall in 2019 and her resulting inability to walk. Sandra was primarily wheel chair bound for the last two years of her life. But despite that handicap, she lived independently, maintaining her own home. This took an enormous effort on her part.

Mostly, Sandra achieved her independence because she was so hard headed, a well known Evans family trait. But also because she was so strong, a true Warrior of a Woman, absolutely determined to live life her own way. You have must admire Sandra for accomplishing her goals.

Happy Trails Sister, until we meet again.
