“ First off , condolences , May God keep you and hold you , I knew Teddy for many years he was my brother in law , we had our differences , but I have forgiven all griveance long time now , i had always planned on telling him in person , but , time passes , I am so forgetful these days , but I wanted to share a story , My sister and Tedddy went on a family Trip to see my Uncle Jay's family down in Leesville La this was way back in late 60's so when we got there Grandpa Hunt had a 8 guage double barrel shotgun , Teddy asked if he could use it to go Squirrell Hunting , Pa Pa Hunt said sure , he had a 100 acres out there in the woods , we used to pick pears out there , he had a real nice orchard , anyways .. I climbed a long skinny pine tree , thinking I could swing it down and but i did not take into account the sap had fallen and the tree was brittle , I got to swinging back in forth on the tree to get it gently ride (lean over) back down to the ground .. it broke and I feel a long ways down and landed on my head , but I did manage to make Teddy laugh so hard he fell over .. I prob had a concussion , anyways we kept on going out in the woods , Teddy seen a squirrell and he found a tree that was leaning upwards at an angle so severe you could literally walk up the tree, and he did get some height up that tree , and aimed both barrells at the squirrell and he let that thing go .. well it was deafening .. it was the equal to any cannon you ever heard .. teddy was propelled off that tree by at least 10 foot .. and then it was my turn to laugh .. but teddy was ok .. he did complain about his shoulder and i did complain about my headache .. never did find anything of the squirrell ...May God hold you in his loving and forgiving embrace .. I hope to see you again in the Mansions of Heaven ..your ex brother in law and current brother in Christ ...amen ...love to all ..Sonny Stevenson
